You will need:

a piece of Fabric 5 by 15 inches a piece of felt 4 by 8 inches Coordinating and or contrasting thread fabric glue beads, braid and other decorative objects

Equipment needed:

Needle if hand sewing
Sewing machine if available
Pins
Fabric Scissors
Snips
Toothpick

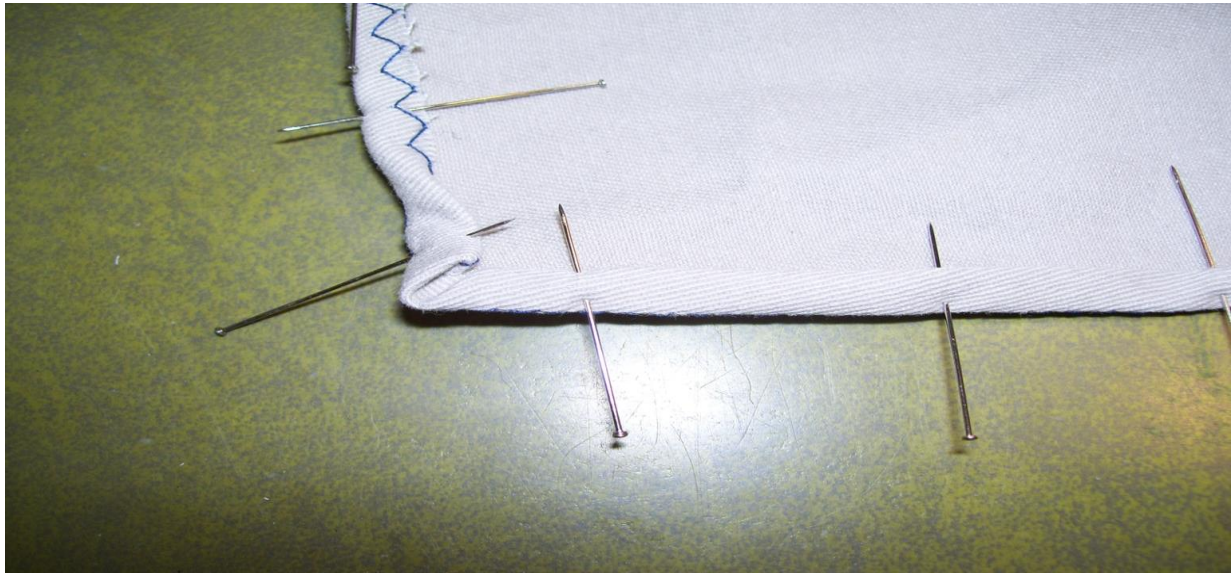

Cut out your fabric and felt
Zigzag around your fabric
Stitch your seam allowance width inside the fabric piece

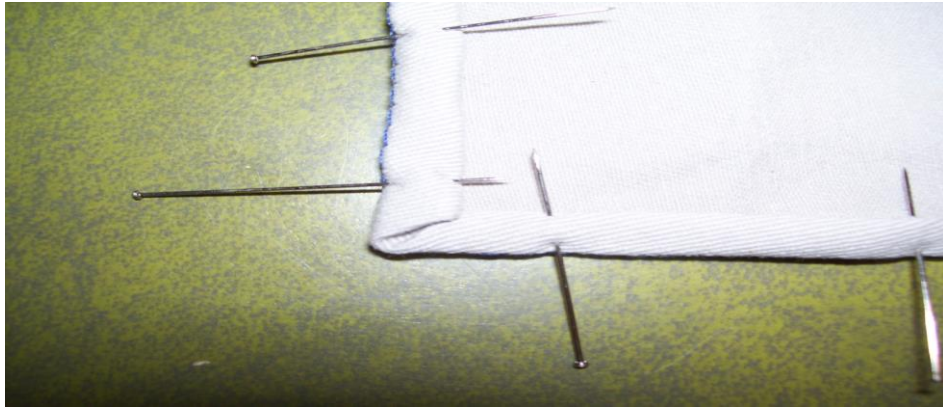

Clip the corners half way to the stitching

Turn a quarter of an inch under (towards the back)

Do this again, pin in place

Very carefully stitch the edge down to encase the raw edges
If possible miter your corners, if not stitch the sides down first then the ends

Pin the felt to the fabric front (you can decide which is which).

Stitch the felt to fabric one three sides, do not include the top, That is where the belt lope goes. Sew together either by outlining it or using whatever pattern floats your boat. You now have an inside and an outside side.

Turn the piece over

Fold the fabric that does not have felt attached and make sure there is at least three inches folded over. This should sit under the felt piece, if not move it down so it does.

Stitch through the layers to attach the flap.

Decorate with cut pieces of felt glued on as well as other things like beads and spangles.
DO NOT USE GLITTER
For a nicer look use bias tape to outline and finish your edges

Let sit overnight
Done
